Hobbies and Interests

I enjoy playing games, both on my laptop and mobile phone. While playing, I am constantly amazed by the new features and graphics in new games. By doing so, I always keep myself excited in game industry and inspired to create similar things in my future works. I am interested in hyper-casual mobile games and want to experience involving in a 3D game development process.

I believe the most unique ideas came at the moments of relaxation. I am interested in oil painting and it enhances my creativity and helps me come up with new ideas for my games.

Reading the news in different fields and reading books about history and philosophy helps me come up with interdisciplinary ideas.
